

+ PANEL 1 PROGRAM (9.00-11.30 CET)

AI AND THE FUTURE OF INFORMATION: INFLUENCE ON FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION, MEDIA AND ACCESSIBILITY

The first panel will focus on the inequalities and disparities arising from content moderation through AI systems, as well as on the role of AI technologies in the dissemination of disinformation.

Speakers will discuss the concept of digital constitutionalism and analyse how AI impacts democratic processes and the right to freedom of expression. Furthermore, the panellists will examine the influence of AI on journalism and the media, access to news content in the age of AI as well as the trends in media' reaction to content scraping activities that fuel AI models.

GOVERNING AI:

INFORMATION ACCESSIBILITY, AI AND THE LAW

The second panel will focus on issues related to the governance of AI in the context of access to information. Speakers will examine international standards of access to official information for AI in governance, as well as threats and opportunities of applications of AI and machine learning for access to information.

In addition, the panel will address the legal aspects of disinformation's dissemination in the age of AI in the European Union as well as in Ukraine, and the ways in which the non-governmental sector can influence the development of AI policies.
